RE: Stethoscope Sale

Attached you will find the advertisement for the annual stethoscope sale offered here at The School of Nursing in collaboration with 3M and Dolby's Bookstore. Many of you may already have this essential tool to support your clinical practice. Please have this tool in anticipation of summer simulation and clinical experiences.

Please know you are not required to purchase a stethoscope from this vendor. Feel free to choose a brand that is comfortable for you. If you do choose to make a purchase under this arrangement, options include:

- a. Make this purchase when you arrive on campus. Please bring with you the order form.
- b. Feel free to mail your form along with payment directly to Dolby's Bookstore and you can receive the stethoscope when you arrive at Penn.
- c. You may also consider contacting the store directly to make the purchase and requesting either shipment to you directly or receiving the item when you arrive to campus. If you request shipping, there are associated charges that appear on the order form.

We have attempted to offer as much flexibility as possible to meet your individual needs.

Feel free to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.
