problems and our aims better than the best intentioned physician ever can, and one is actually appalled at the potential possibilities of a bill which provides that the Board of Examiners shall consist of five persons, "two of whom may be women." This bill may have worked very well so far, but any Visiting Nurse Association which has struggled under the administration of a board composed of physicians and women who were not nurses, can realize what this might and could mean.

And as to selection by the State Board of Health, one can easily imagine a condition which would make the selection entirely subservient to politics. With our State Associations there should rest the responsibility of getting the right persons appointed to examining boards. Where they cannot make the nominations directly, they should be active in bringing to the attention of the Governor the applicants whom they wish appointed. Where it is a case of being examined by the Medical Board of Examiners, they should work with might and main to get the proper kind of bill as soon as possible.

We all know the standard the average physician, mind you, I say the average physician, requires of a nurse. And we must bear in mind the high honors to which we are frequently called. If you want the calls from your own state to be filled by nurses from your own state, see to it that your standards measure up to the highest.

The connection between the Board of Examiners and the State Association should be a close one. Regular reports should be presented to the Association, and if to these reports is added that of an Inspector of Training Schools, the whole field of nursing in the state is clearly known to the Association. In this way only can we hope to raise our standards.

I hope to see the State Association a strong central body, standing behind each alumnae association to help in the solution of nursing problems, and taking up new ventures in the line of progress, such as central directories, nurses' hotels, anything, in fact, which affects the body of nurses in the state.
In conclusion, let me urge upon the National Association to frame a bill along approved lines which may be sent to each state as the ideal bill for which to strive. And let me urge upon the nurses to strengthen their State Associations, so that when an attempt is made to lower requirements, they may be in a position to cry "no compromise."

Miss Riddle. Are there any questions to ask regarding information required? If not the meeting is adjourned to meet tomorrow morning at nine o'clock in this hall.

THE
NATIONAL LEAGUE OF NURSING EDUCATION

CONSTITUTION
(Revised June 3, 1912.)

ARTICLE I—NAME

This organization shall be known as The National League of Nursing Education.

ARTICLE II—OBJECT

The object of this association shall be to consider all questions relating to nursing education; to define and maintain in schools of nursing throughout the country minimum standards for admission and graduation; to assist in furthering all matters pertaining to public health; to aid in all measures for public good by co-operating with other bodies, educational, philanthropic and social; to promote by meetings, papers and discussions cordial, professional relations and fellowship and in all ways to develop and maintain the highest ideals in the nursing profession.

ARTICLE III—MEMBERS

There shall be two classes of members:
(1) Active.
(2) Honorary.

ARTICLE IV—CLASSES OF MEMBERS

SECTION 1. Individual members of the society shall include members of the preliminary organization; all past superintendents who were members while holding that position; all present superintendents of schools of nursing and of hospitals; assistant superintendents of training schools and hospitals who are eligible only when holding positions; head workers in various forms of social, educational and preventive nursing, if qualified as specified in by-laws and acceptable to the society.

SECTION 2. State leagues if qualified as specified in by-laws and acceptable to the society. Such organizations to be entitled to one delegate in addition to the president, and one vote.
SECTION 3. Individual members who have performed noteworthy services to the society and the profession, who have been active members and who have resigned, may be made life members with full privileges. Honorary members shall be those of whom the association wishes to signify its appreciation and hold in grateful remembrance for signal service to the profession or to humanity.

ARTICLE V—OFFICERS

The officers of this society shall consist of a president, first vice-president, second vice-president, secretary, treasurer and two auditors, together with the duly elected presidents of state leagues as specified in by-laws, and the international delegate, who shall be an ex-officio member, shall constitute the council. The executive committee shall be composed of the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and two members from the council.

ARTICLE VI—AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION

This constitution shall not be amended or annulled except as hereinafter provided.

To amend or annul this constitution it shall be necessary that such proposed amendment or annulment be presented in writing to the secretary to put before the annual meeting next preceding the one at which the final ballot shall be cast, for its approval and a copy of the proposed amendment or annulment with a copy of the part of the constitution as amended be sent to each member at least two months previous to the meeting at which final action is to be taken. A two-thirds vote of the members present shall be necessary for amendment or annulment.

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE I—MEETINGS

The meetings of the society shall be held annually and conjointly with the meetings of the American Nurses Association. The time and place of each meeting shall be named by the council and reported to the society for its action at the meeting next preceding. Each annual meeting shall be called by a printed announcement sent to each member, at least one month previous to the meeting. The council shall hold an annual meeting concurrent with the annual meeting of the society.

ARTICLE II—MEMBERSHIP QUALIFICATIONS

Individual members shall be graduates of training schools connected with general hospitals giving not less than two years' course of training in the wards of the hospital, but in the case of individuals who graduated prior to the amendment of this article, experience either as post-graduates or additional school work may be accepted as an equivalent.
In those states where nurse practice laws have been secured registration shall be an additional qualification. They must be indorsed by two members.

State leagues whose membership requirements accord with the requirements for individual membership in the national organization.

Candidates for admission to membership, either individual or state organizations, shall make application to the secretary for an application blank, which she shall fill out and return to be sent by the secretary to the chairman of the membership committee for consideration. Final action by the council shall be taken at the council meeting immediately previous to the annual meeting, and the names of all candidates with recommendation of the council thereon, shall be presented to the society for action at the annual meeting.

Election shall be by two-thirds vote of the members present.

Proposal for life and honorary membership shall be signed by three active members and shall be presented at an annual meeting. The election shall be unanimous.

ARTICLE III—FEES AND ASSESSMENTS

The initiation fees for active members shall be $2.00 and the annual dues $3.00. The annual dues of state organizations having 50 or more members shall be $10.00.

The annual dues of individual members and state organizations shall be payable on the 1st day of January of each year, except that for the first year dues shall be paid at the time of admission. Any member or organization failing to pay annual dues by April 1st shall receive special notice from the treasurer, and if the dues are not paid within three months from that date they shall have forfeited all privileges of membership, unless such dues shall have been remitted by the council for good and sufficient reasons. The fiscal year shall be from January 1st to December 31st.

ARTICLE IV—WITHDRAWAL

Any member of the society may withdraw from it on signifying her desire to do so in writing to the secretary providing that she shall have paid all her dues to the society. She may be restored upon making the usual application and paying the annual dues. Any member who shall be declared unfit for membership by a two-thirds vote of the members of the council present at an annual meeting of that body shall have her name presented by it for the action of the society from which she shall be dismissed, if it is so voted by two-thirds of the members present at its annual meeting.
ARTICLE V—ELECTION OF OFFICERS

A nominating committee shall be appointed by the executive committee at its midyear meeting. This committee shall select one name for each office to be filled, and shall post this list at the afternoon session of the day previous to the election, together with the names of the presidents of the state leagues. Additional nominations for any office may be made from the floor. The president, secretary and treasurer are eligible for re-election, and one auditor shall be elected to serve two years. These nominations shall be placed in the hands of the nominating committees at the afternoon session of the day previous to the annual election.

ARTICLE VI—DUTIES OF OFFICERS

The president shall prepare an address to be delivered at the opening session of the annual meeting. She shall preside at all annual and special meetings of the society or council or if absent at any time, the vice-presidents shall act in their order. The secretary shall keep the records of the society and perform all the duties pertaining to that office. The treasurer shall receive and duly account for all sums of money, pay all bills, approved by the president, and shall submit these accounts with a financial report for the preceding year at the annual meeting of the society.

Each annual statement to be examined and reported upon by the auditors.

ARTICLE VII—DUTIES OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The executive committee is empowered, with the co-operation of the council, to manage all affairs of the society, subject to the constitution and by-laws, to appoint committees, to publish reports, papers and transactions in such manner as it may determine, and to decide upon all expenditures, subject to the approval of the society. All arrangements for the annual meeting shall be made by the executive committee.

ARTICLE VIII—THE COUNCIL

The council shall meet before and immediately following each annual meeting. The duties of the council shall be to keep the association informed of the progress of nursing in the states represented. Its members shall act as the representatives of the society in the state. To encourage and aid in the organization of local branches in the states, and to perform such duties as the council of the national association may require.

ARTICLE IX—A QUORUM

A quorum of the executive committee shall be formed by five members, of the council two-thirds of the members, and of the society twenty members.
ARTICLE X—AMENDMENTS OF BY-LAWS

These by-laws may be amended or annulled by a two-thirds vote of the members present, provided a written notice of such amendment or annulment be sent to each member four weeks before the annual meeting at which the vote is to be taken.

They may be temporarily suspended at any meeting by unanimous consent.
