

Students who wish to study a subject of interest in greater depth may choose to pursue a minor in addition to the undergraduate business concentration. Departmental and University (interschool) minors are available across schools and departments at Penn and generally require six to nine courses for completion.

UNIVERSITY (INTERSCHOOL) MINORS

Jointly sponsored by Wharton and at least one of the other schools at Penn:

- Actuarial Mathematics
- American Public Policy
- Biological Basis of Behavior & Health Services Management
- Consumer Psychology
- Legal Studies & History
- Nursing & Health Services Management
- Organizations & Environmental Management
- Urban Real Estate & Development

Jointly sponsored by two or more of the undergraduate schools at Penn (outside of Wharton):

- Nutrition
- Urban Education

UNIVERSITY MINOR DECLARATION PROCESS

For University Minors that are jointly sponsored by the Wharton School:

1. Review the minor requirement information on the web sites listed on the University Minors page on SPIKE.
2. Consult with an advisor in the Wharton Undergraduate Division as well as the Wharton department offering the minor before declaring.
3. Complete a University Minor Declaration Form (on reverse side of this page).
4. Meet with and have your University Minor Declaration Form signed by Lindy Black-Margida, Senior Associate Director, Academic Affairs.

For University Minors that are jointly sponsored by schools outside of Wharton:

Please see the respective academic departments for their declaration policies and procedures.

Reminder:

All courses applied toward the minor must be taken for a letter grade and cannot be taken on a pass/fail basis.
